

Ibadan is one of the largest cities in Africa and it's most notable for her rich cultural heritage. The city will be experiencing the very next Social Work Poetry Concert, in July. Social Work, just like the profession, is a spoken word poetry album that advocates against various social vices. After the release of this collection which houses a poem for everyone, Ola TheRAWPoet Adene began staging Social Work Poetry Concerts to get the message across to the world, a city at a time. Prior to now, Social Work Poetry Concerts have held in Akure and Benin-City.

Betayarn will be bringing you all the details all the way!
